G. C. WHITE, P. M.

A Eureka Man's Letter.

Among the letters opened and rifled of their contents by Maguire, the mail robber, who is now in the Carson jail, the Eureka Sentinel says there was one from J. W. McLane of Ruby Hill to his wife in Massachusetts. The letter contained a postal order for $25 and a $20 greenback, in all $45. Postal Inspector Sharpe writes Postmaster Smith from San Francisco that he has the money, which is all right, and will be restored to its owner. Mr. McLane is employed at the Eureka Con. new hoisting works.

Double-width dress goods, worth 37½ cents, for 20 cents, at M. Cohn's.

James G. Fair, Jr., who was sent to an Eastern college about a year ago, returned to this coast a few days since. The papers say that he has graduated. This is another living illustration of the advantages of wealth. The son of a poor man, may he be ever so brilliant, is generally required to remain at college for four years before he receives his sheepskin.

In the face of the surface sympathy that was expressed for the unfortunate girl, Bertha Whitney, who died here on Thursday, no one followed her to the grave but the undertaker and a clergyman.

Diamonds! Diamonds!—The biggest bargains in them at Uncle Harris', 221 Kearny street, between Bush and Sutter streets, San Francisco.

IN BRIEF.

To-morrow will be pay day at the Mint.

Stocks were somewhat firmer yesterday.

Governor Kinkead will arrive this morning.

Ladies, don't lose sight of those goods at Lillienfeld's.

Mrs. Tremor Coffin is visiting friends at Reno.

H. A. Gaston, ex-Speaker of the Assembly, is in Austin.

R. B. McMahon, a popular Carsonite, is now living at Truckee.

Mrs. W. M. Lynch will return from a long Eastern visit to-day.

There will be an unusually good dinner at the Ormsby to-day.

The Savage Mining Company is now sending ore to the Santiago mill.

There will be a great many Carson hunters at Washoe Lake to-day.

Miss Maggie Cook, of the Mint, returned from California yesterday.

Mrs. Ben Small and daughter, Mrs. Tinker, are now living in San Francisco.

It is authentically stated that a good showing will soon be made in the Overman mine.

A Chinese thief was arrested yesterday for stealing blankets from Olcovich Brothers.

Miss Nellie Parkinson will give a concert at Genoa the evening before Thanksgiving.

It is estimated that $50,000 is annually expended over bar-room counters in this city.

There will be services at the Catholic, Episcopal and Methodist churches at the usual hours to-day.

Reserve your seats for the "Mirror of Ireland" which appears at the Opera House next Wednesday.

Mrs. Surveyor General Hatch and daughter, Miss Gertrude, have returned from their Eastern visit.

Scandal prevails in communities sometimes like an epidemic, and Carson is sorely afflicted just at this time.

There will be a sauerkraut and wild goose lunch at Fisher & Decker's to-day. The latter were shot by Henry.

It is reported from San Francisco that Judge Hillyer's condition, both physically and mentally, is very much improved.

The Assessor of this county will publish a full and detailed report of his labors for the past year early next month.

Mr. E. H. Colver was last evening married to Miss May Hawthorne by the Rev. Mr. Gray, at the residence of the bride's parents.

Peter Spargo, of the Mint, is composing an opera, and William Pearson has written a historical play of the time of Queen Elizabeth.

Traveling shows visiting Carson expect to have their members boarded and lodged at first-class hotels at the rate of seventy-five cents per head.

John P. Meder has recently composed a new schottische and a new waltz, both of which will soon be published. There is a certain undefinable piquancy about Mr. Meder's music.

Geo. W. Jackson, an old colored man, formerly porter of the County Buildings, died in this city yesterday morning. Mr. Jackson was an old resident of Carson, and respected by all who knew him.

At the Hole-in-the-Wall (Opera House) there will be served to-day an old-fashioned clam-bake, with Boston baked beans and brown bread on the side. To start in with, soup d'hole-inthetwall.

A business man of this city, who shall be nameless, dropped a cool thousand dollars at a sociable poker game on Friday night. He started in to win enough to pay for theater tickets for himself and family.

A gentleman who came from the southern mines yesterday informs the APPEAL that Johnny Davis, who formerly gave the police of this city so much trouble, has reformed, earning his living in a respectable manner, and joined the church. Yet people will say that the leopard cannot change his spots.

Double-width dress goods, worth 50 cents, for 25 cents, at M. Cohn's.

Colonel Rockwell's Account of the Dying President.

He was brave, patient and uncomplaining, but never, while I was with him, in what could be called good spirits. Those who suppose he could have been so don't know the awful character of his wound and the desperate nature of his struggle. I can't remember that he ever attempted to smile but once. We knew that he was hopeful, but we learned it more from the steady, brave light in his eyes than from any assurance he gave. He seemed determined to waste nothing of his strength, but to bend it all to the contest. I think he realized that hope lay most in his own will and judgment, and he occupied his mind in their exercise. During the first few weeks his suffering was acute and terrible, but through it all the light in his eyes was clear, and his courage never seemed even to falter, and upon him, rather than anything that could be done for him, I built my confidence. Poor man, he had no reason to smile, but, on the other hand, he rarely permitted himself to express in any way the degree of his suffering. Once, only, while I sat by his bedside fanning him, did he give way to an uncontrollable manifestation of his agony, then, suddenly lifting his arms to my neck, he cried out, in the nervous agitation of the moment, "Save me." It came so sudden that it nearly broke me down, but was as quickly passed, and lying perfectly motionless, the look of determination came into his eyes again, and saying no word, he seemed to settle himself again to the silent, single-handed contest he was making. For days and days it went on the same. It was an excitement and a stimulant to see the evidence of his unflinching courage, and we lived upon it. The awful time came when we could see that there was literally nothing but his will left. Strength gone utterly, he still lived; but oh, how pitiful now, when in the weakness of his sufferings he would often reach out his hand to lay it on the face of the friend by his bedside, and stroke with a caressing movement and the touch peculiar to the helplessness of an infant!—Chicago Inter Ocean.

What a Valid Oath Is.

Cornelius O'Reilly, the Albany undertaker, has been granted a new trial by the Court of Appeals. He was convicted of perjury in swearing to a fraudulent bill presented to the Board of Supervisors. The defense was that he did not swear to the bill; that he only affixed his signature to the jurat and that a notary did the same. The Court on trial held that that was a sufficient and valid oath, and so charged the jury. Counsel for the prisoner excepted and the case went to the Court of Appeals, which sustains the position of the prisoner's counsel. Judge Finch writes the opinion, and in conclusion he says that to make a valid oath for the falsity of which perjury will lie, must be in some form in presence of an officer authorized to administer it, an equivocal and present act by which the affiant consciously takes upon himself the obligation of an oath. The delivery in this case of signed affidavit to the officer was not such an act, and was not made so by the intention of one party or the supposition of the other. For these reasons the judgment should be reversed and a new trial granted.

A new mode of operation has been adopted by the young women of a Sunday school in Edgefield, Tenn. They have organized for missionary work among a certain class of young men of the place, and call at their residences on Sunday morning and escort them to church.

Dr. G. Haas, of San Francisco, Surgeon Dentist (graduate of New York College of Dentistry) will be in Carson on or about the 27th instant. Parties contemplating having dentistry done will do well to wait until said gentleman arrives. The Doctor visits patients at their residence, his workmanship is unexcelled and charges reasonable. He will be at the Ormsby House, where all orders can be left. oc-25

M. W. Hodkins, at the Glove Depot, opposite the Arlington House, has just received a large and fine stock of gloves and mitts for gents, ladies and children of the latest styles. Best assortment and lowest prices in the State. Hand-sewed buck gloves a specialty. Also, men's buckskin underwear, socks, suspenders, etc. o4-1m*

An officer of the Union army relates that upon one occasion, after a charge upon the enemy's works, a fierce encounter and a fall back for reinforcements, a bright young Irish soldier was found to have a rebel flag, captured from the foe. Approaching him, he said: "I'll send that to the rear as one of our trophies; give me the flag." "Sure, I'll not give it to ye," said Pat, "if ye are wanting one there's plenty av thim behind that ridge over beyant where I got this; sure ye can can go and get one for yerself."

Wood for Sale.

I will sell wood, as good, and even better, than any in Carson, two-thirds red fir limbs, and one-third split yellow-pine (mixed) at $7 per cord. A reduction of fifty cents will be allowed to parties taking five cords or more at one time. I have also a quantity of nut-pine and cedar, which I will sell at proportionately low figures. Terms strictly cash on delivery. D. CHASE.
